The question behind the connector

The showcase demonstrated the building blocks. Providers now need clarity on participation, control and value.

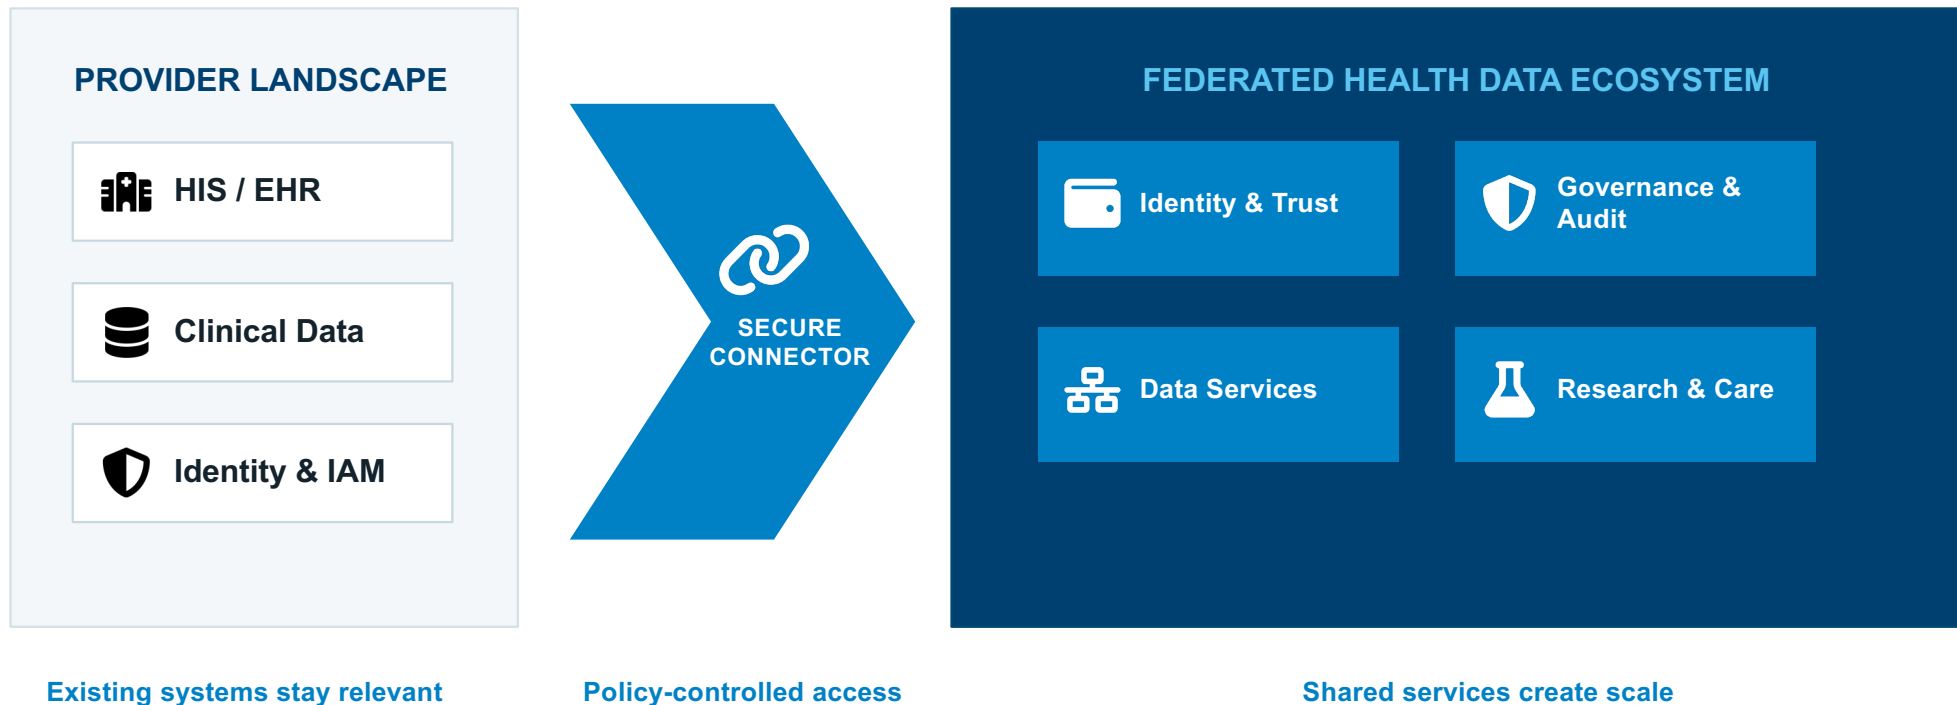

What does this mean for me as a data holder?

Healthcare providers do not want to become experts in dataspace technology. Their mission is patient care.

The connector is a bridge, not the destination

It links existing clinical systems with trusted identity, governance and data services.

From EHDS readiness to reliable operation

SVA - One partner across strategy, integration, security, data platforms and managed services.

Healthcare expertise + strategic consulting + deep technology capabilities

Technology becomes valuable when participation becomes manageable

For providers, the objective is not simply connection. It is trusted, sustainable participation.

BETTER CARE

Reliable information flows across organizational boundaries.

FASTER RESEARCH

Secure access supports collaborative research and innovation.

TRUST & CONTROL

Governance keeps access transparent, auditable and accountable.

Let us turn your EHDS participation into a practical roadmap.

Start with your data, your architecture and your operating reality.

Why SVA?

- The success of the ecosystem will not be measured by technology behind of the connector.
- It will be measured by the value it creates for providers, professionals and patients.
- SVA helps turn connection into trusted participation.
